During the hat is utterly without foundation, though whole twelve months fish may be caught and sold in California, while in this State the selling is prohibited for a certain period. But this is not all, for the fish in this State are allowed to be caught and sold during a certain period of the spawning season, yet prohibited irom sale during a part of the time when in full growth. To add to the hardships of local fishermen, there are no ladder-ways kept clear up the Truckee Biver, and Indians stand at the different obstructions, grab-hooking the wout, which, in trying to leap the ways up the stream, are noticed by hundreds of different observers to pass spawn, so desperate are their endeavors to fulfill the laws of their nature, and proceed up the stream. Complaints have been made without avail. If this State would only allow fishing for disposal, to be free throughout the year, and maintain hatcheries as California does, there would be a small army of fishermen who could maintain themselves honorably and aid in the general prosperity of Reno, and perhaps along the whole hine of the Truckee River.

MOTHER DOLORES' MISSION.

An Eight Months' Pilgrimage in the

About eight months ago Mother Dolores, the esteamed Superioress of Mount Saint Mary's Academy here in Reno, departed on a trip East for the purpose of doing everything in her power to obtain both aid and support for the academy. It was not exactly that necessity demanded it, but it was felt that could an increased scope be given to the institution, its aims and ends would be largely aided. The trip was taken advisedly, as the Sisters' Academy possesses many thoughtful and influential friends. Accordingly, last November across the Continent. She did not delay until she had reached Boston, where file, unless complainants otherwise elect the mouth of the shaft for Mr. Mahoney throughout Boston proper and its many Plymouth Rock city itself. From New York a trip was taken to Philadelphia and Baltimore, extending over several weeks. Finally property was—not—in danger. Her mission to the East to raise funds for the aid and support of the academy was only partially successful, though very encouraging. Auether Reno Indus:ry-George Becker's Brewery.

A JOURNAL reporter yesterday after noon visited the fine browery of Geo. Becker, situated in the rear of the Granite Saloon and fronting on Sierra street. It was built last spring and is a wooden edifice 26x70 feet, a story and a half high, with a cellar 26x50 feet, and 111/2 feet deep-walled up with solid stone, and extremely cool. The ground floor contains the furnace and boiler of twelve barrels capacity, a cooler vat 12x24 feet, besides storage room for malt, hops, kegs big and little, and all the paraphernalia of the brewing trade. The cellar is an extremely pleasant place to loaf in, not only on account of no greater compliment than to wish he its wonderful coolness, but especial y on account of the near proximity of the oreamy, dreamy beer.

Political Points.

As the time draws near for the primaries of the two parties to be held for the past, and deserves favor at its hands as much as snybody, also that he has plenty of friends and will be elected if he can only get the nomination. As yet, however, none have assurance and confidence enough in themselves or their chances to come squarely out by natures, telling what office they consider themselves fitted for and are willing to fill. But the trouble cannot be delayed much longer, all hands are getting their fighting weight regulated, and in a very short time political tomahawks and scalping knives must gleam in the air. There are many candidates and many fight. The above is the way the Austin Reveille puts it for Austin. The situation in Reno is about the same.

Rapid Improvement Among the

The rapid decrease in the number of patients at the Insane Asylum, owing to the improved or cured condition of the patients, is attracting much comment. It is evidently due to the excellent climate of this valley, together with correct treatment and abundance of nourishing food. If the present improvement in the condition of the insane continues, the asylum will soon be depleted in numbers. This fact eyinces the wisdom of legislating the State's insane to be cared for by and within the State itself.
